FLATWATER

Austin Healey Club

Of Eastern Nebraska And Western Iowa

Flatwater Austin Healey club members are British car enthusiasts. Although we are an Austin-Healey club, our members own MGs, Triumphs, Jaguars and other British iron. Some of our cars are daily drivers, some are show cars. Some of us do our own work, some of us have it done. Some of our cars sit out all the time, others have their own place in the garage.

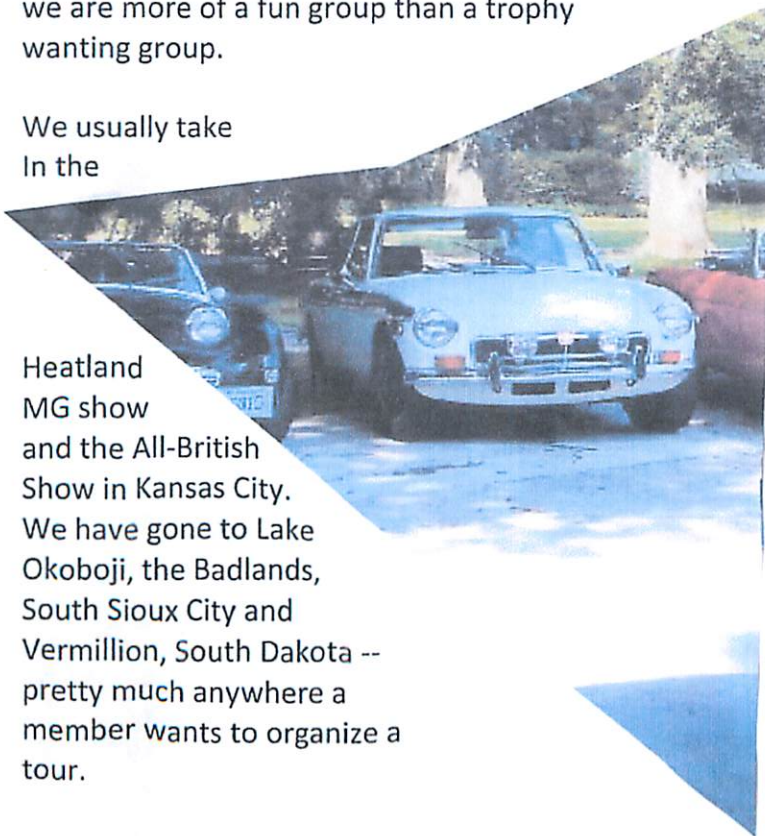

We're united in our love of the British automobile, its preservation, the joys of driving a piece of history and keeping them on the road.

We offer events throughout the year, such as a last Friday of the month get together at one of Nebraska's small town restaurants, breakfast at D&K Restaurant in Gretna, NE on the third Saturday and a get together at Sean O'Casey's Pub in Omaha, NE on the second Thursday of each month.

We also take our cars on the road to shows, although we are more of a fun group than a trophy wanting group.

We usually take In the

Heatland MG show and the All-British Show in Kansas City.
We have gone to Lake
Okoboji, the Badlands, South Sioux City and Vermillion, South Dakota -- pretty much anywhere a member wants to organize a tour.

We think our web page is one of our best features.

Our web page lists member home pages, links to mechanical resources, regalia information, club officer information and other relevant club information. Check out the web page at www.flatwater.org and see if you don't agree.

You might be wondering why we are called Flatwater. It is the Native American term for the Platte River, a highlight of Nebraska geography.
